ESCAPED CONVICTS DIE IN FIGHT WITH OFFICERS

30 ARE KILLED WHEN ENGINE'S BOILER BURSTS

San Antonio Roundhouse Scene of Terrific Explosion; Many Are Wounded

SAN ANTONIO, March 18.—At least thirty were killed in the explosion of a locomotive boiler at the Southern Pacific roundhouse today.

Twenty-seven bodies had been recovered within three hours after the explosion. Nearby stores and buildings were filled with injured. The roundhouse and cooper shops were wrecked by the explosion and many men working in them were hurt by falling walls.

The army hospital staff here was rushed to the yards and police ambulances and Y. M. C. A. workers were organized into rescue bands to take out the dead and to try and save the lives of the wounded.

The victims were said to be strike-breakers who have been working in the Southern Pacific shops ever since the shopmen's strike began several months ago. After the explosion rumors in the downtown section of San Antonio were that dynamite was the cause, but investigation at the yards showed no indications that such rumors had started there.

Engines in the roundhouse were smashed and the roundhouse caught fire. The half-ton jacket of the exploding locomotive boiler dropped between two houses on Duval street, several blocks distant, while the tender was catapulted several hundred yards and into a shapeless mass of steel.

A majority of the men who were killed were from Northern and Western states, but much difficulty is being experienced in identifying the bodies.

Among the first dead identified was Walter Jourdan of San Antonio, an engineer. In the machine and blacksmith shops fifteen or more men were killed, portions of their bodies being found jammed in crevices in the roof or entangled in machinery. A great portion of the wall fell inward, burying twelve men.

Mrs. B. S. Gillis, 62 years old, in her home seven blocks away, was probably fatally injured when the front end of the locomotive crashed into the roof, demolishing three rooms and continuing through to the ground floor.

In addition to all available medical aid relief organizations, a squad of Third U. S. Cavalry and the city's entire police force joined in the relief work.

Aside from Jourdan, the identified dead are:

J. BURDY, machinist, Pittsburg, Pa.

MANSKER SR., foreman blacksmith shop, San Antonio.

BRADY, machinist, address unknown.

WM. R. BREMER, machinist, address unknown.

W. O. HEIBLER, air man, address unknown.

In the cooper shop, T. A. Williams, the foreman, was knocked under a heavy work bench, the entire structure plunging down over him, but he escaped with burns and bruises. He remained under the debris half an hour after the explosion.

Among the shrieks of the injured after the explosion across the roar of flaming oil from the feed pipe through which the oil burning locomotives fill their tenders. This pipe had broken and ignited. The flow of oil was cut off.

WAS INSPECTED SATURDAY.

HOUSTON, Tex., March 18.—President Fay of the Harriman lines in Texas and Louisiana, in a statement today, said the locomotive which exploded had been inspected fully and pronounced all right on Saturday. It was used in drawing the fast California Express.

Bombs Dropped From Aeroplane; Arabs Killed

BENGHAZI, Tripoli, March 18.—Bombs dropped from an aeroplane belonging to the Italian expeditionary force, killed ten Arabs and wounded others in a Turkish camp some distance from here today. The Italian officer who was a passenger made valuable observations.

Head of Brewing Company Kills Self

CHICAGO, March 18.—William Selp, head of the Conrad Selp Brewing Company and son of the late Conrad Selp, shot and killed himself today while the family was at breakfast in another room. Selp had announced suicide while temporarily insane because of long illness. Selp was 61 years of age and is survived by a widow and three sons.

Peach Crop Failure; Old Story From East

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—The first of the usual annual announcements of the failure of the peach crop comes this year from York, Pa. A dispatch from that city says: "The peach crop will be nearly a complete failure. The cold weather entirely froze the buds, and from indications at this time, there will be few peaches. Growers say that there will be little or no fruit."

Workman Killed in Fight Near Marshall's Landing

MARTINEZ, March 18.—Francisco Odella, a workman, was shot four times and instantly killed last night on Sherman island, near Marshall's landing, Suisun bay, by Modesto. Novero, another workman. Novero and two companions escaped in a launch and is being sought by the sheriff of Sacramento county, in whose jurisdiction the crime occurred. According to Sheriff Veale of Contra Costa, who was called to the scene of the shooting, Odella and Novero quarreled on the levee over some matter unknown to the official. Novero drew a revolver and fired four times, all of the bullets finding their mark.

PRIMARY IS FAVORED BY TAFT

President Comes Out in Speech That Is Answer to Roose- velt's Manager

Declares Attack on Courts Is Dangerous; People Have Always Ruled, He Says

BOSTON, March 18.—President Taft declared himself today in favor of preferential primaries surrounded by certain conditions for the coming campaign.

"Wherever full and fair notice of the election cannot be given, wherever adequate election safeguards cannot be thrown around to protect the preferential primary for the presidency, wherever the constitution of the state permits its being made applicable to the present election I favor it and welcome it."

This was the president's statement today before the general court of Massachusetts. It was his first personal reply to the challenge to preferential primaries issued some time ago by Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Colonel Roosevelt's manager. President Taft did not refer to the challenge, however.

The president made a rather pointed reference to the proposition "let the people rule" and had something to say about the recall of the judiciary and the recall of judicial decisions.

THE PRESIDENT'S MENACE.

"Irresponsible assaults upon either in intemperate language or on baseless assumptions of corruption, or bias or incompetency, made by those whose statements have influence with any part of our people, are a serious menace to enduring government," said the president. His address, in part, follows:

"You recently have heard what is called 'preferential primary' laid for the election of delegates to the national conventions upon which will fall the duty of selecting the presidential nominees of the respective parties. I have not had opportunity critically to examine the new law, but I am sure it makes proper provision to meet the obvious requirements."

"I am glad you have done this. The question of how delegates are to be selected to the national convention, or how nominees are to be selected by a party originally was a matter merely of voluntary and party adjustment, but so important to the public at large that the character of the candidates to be selected by each party became, that the state properly has interfered so as to throw safeguards around the exercise, by all those who belong to a party, of their privilege to have a voice in the choice of their party candidates."

EFFECTIVE SAFEGUARD.

"I am not going to discuss in detail the question of direct primary elections—their uses and abuses. I think everyone will admit, however, in order that they may accomplish the good they are intended to accomplish that they should be safeguarded by effective provisions as to the party eligibility of voters who participate in them and by penal provisions, securing conformity to rules of such eligibility and the honestification and counting of the ballot."

"I don't hesitate to say that in my judgment a voluntary primary outside the law, known by its informal character as a 'soap-box primary,' is worse than none, for it gives full opportunity to the ineligible electors of the other party to cast their unfair votes and without the sanction and safeguard of penal provisions in respect to casting and counting the ballots is

HERMAN DIEHM (upper), accused slayer and bank robber, who was captured last evening by Inspector Thomas Wood (lower.)

PRISONER AVERS HE IS NOT ARCH CRIMINAL

Held on Charges of Murder and Robberies of Bank and Postoffice.

Captured after a desperate attempt to evade the police by leading them on an exciting chase through the Sunday evening crowds, a man giving the name of J. V. Sydney, but believed to be Herman Diehm, alias Archie Clark, wanted in Chicago for murder and in several cities of the United States and Canada for bank and postoffice robberies, is being held by the Oakland police, pending the arrival of the local J. V. Sydney, a real estate man, the murder of Inspector Thomas Wood placed him under arrest. Before the man was captured he had thrown Wood to the ground, had made his way for two blocks through the crowded streets followed by several policemen and Commissioner of Streets W. J. Brown, and had received two scalp wounds from the muzzle of Inspector Wood's heavy 35 calibre revolver, as the officer clubbed him into submission after overtaking him in the race.

SENSATIONAL CAPTURE.

The capture was one of the most sensational that has been made by the Oakland police. Pinkerton detectives gave the local J. V. Sydney, a real estate man in Oakland and had been seen at the Santa

ONE IS KILLED; OTHER TAKES OWN LIFE IN BATTLE

Three Fugitive Prisoners From Nebraska Penitentiary Are Brought to Bay

OMAHA, Neb., March 18.—Convict Taylor was killed in a fight with officers near Louisville, Neb., early this afternoon. Dowd, one of his companions in the escape from the state prison following the murdering of three officials, killed himself.

Morley, the third convict, surrendered after being wounded. Sheriff Hyers of Lincoln was said to have fired the shot that killed Taylor, or Gray, as he was otherwise known.

George Mowinkle, on whose farm the fight occurred, is said to have been slightly hurt. None of the officers was wounded.

The fight between the posers and the convicts was an uneven affair, the officers being armed with rifles and the bandits with revolvers.

Two posers engaged the men at once, having cross fire on them. Taylor was killed by the bullets of the officers after which Dowd, recognizing the hopelessness of the situation, turned his weapon upon himself.

Blunt, a young farmer, who had been forced to drive the desperadoes in his sleigh, was found dead. He was killed by a stray bullet.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 18.—The three convicts who escaped from the state penitentiary were seen just before daylight today near South Bend, Neb., on a handcar. They had stolen the car at Prairie Home, just out of Lincoln, and had broken into a hardware store at Murdock, stealing guns, ammunition and clothing. Strong posers, led by Sheriff Hyers and others, left Lincoln on the trail of the fleeing handcar as soon as a special train could be made ready.

APPEAR AT FAIRHOUSE.
LOUISVILLE, Neb., March 18.—The three convicts approached the Blunt home north of here, and demanded that Blunt haul them to Albright, a small station near Omaha. He refused to do so. They told Mrs. Blunt that they were the three escaped convicts. The three fugitives, Taylor, Morley and Dowd, spent Friday night and all day Sunday and part of Sunday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blunt on a farm five miles east of a mile north of Havelock. After tying Mr. and Mrs. Blunt so securely that they believed they could not liberate themselves, they cut the telephone wires and left Saturday night. During their stay they compelled the people at the farm house to serve them with meals and permitted no one to leave the house.

After leaving the Blunt home, the fugitives went to Prairie Home, secured a handcar and went to Murdock where they burglarized two stores and secured arms, ammunition and clothing. Later the convicts were seen walking the railroad tracks between South Bend and Meadow. Next they were seen passing the home of P. G. Hall, two and a half miles west of Meadow.

Dies in Chair Year After Conviction

Di Pasquale Pays Penalty for Murder at Wedding Feast.

AUBURN, N. Y., March 18.—Domestic Di Pasquale died in the electric chair today, exactly one year after his conviction. To the last he fought against death in the chair. A statement issued by Deputy Warden Tupper after the execution told of Di Pasquale's efforts to hang himself in his cell last Friday. He was discovered, cut down, removed and covered up until this morning. Di Pasquale shot Cologero Pollizzi to death during a quarrel at a wedding celebration at Rochester, November 12, 1910. At the trial Salvatori di Pasquale, a younger brother of the accused, testified it was he who fired the shot.

American Factories Yield $20,000,000,000

Value of Annual Output Doubles in the Last Ten Years.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Twenty billion dollars is the value of the present annual output of American factories, the total having just doubled in the last ten years, according to a commerce and labor department estimate. Exports from the United States in 1911 amounted to over $2,012,500,000 of which $900,000,000 was in manufactures. This the department points out, shows that the bulk of the export trade is acquired through no selling effort, but is due to the fact that foreign buyers come to America for cotton, corn and wheat that they must have. Germany is credited with being the greatest rival of the United States in commerce.

American Marines Land in Seething Chinese City

SWATOW, China, March 18.—A detachment of marines from the U. S. Monitor Monterey landed here today because of the continued disturbances all over the city and the threatening attitude of the natives. The marines have taken charge of the customs house. Heavy fighting between the Hakkas, tribesmen and the troops from Canton went on for eight hours today in the streets of the city. Forty natives are known to have been killed. It is believed casualties far exceed that number. One shot killed a bluejacket on board a Japanese warship in the harbor. Chinese several other boats struck the hull of the United States Monitor Monterey. Reports from Whiehoo say that the troops there are mutinous.

At the time of his apprehension by Policeman Dolan, Moon had a revolver with four empty cartridges and a lot of ammunition in his possession.

PLAY FOR MAN AND BOY IS ADVOCATED

Probation Officer Declares City Should Provide Recreation Resorts.

"What the Y. M. C. A. does for a certain class of young men and boys, what an institution like Plymouth Center in Oakland does for a certain neighborhood, that should be done by municipal clubhouses for the people in every neighborhood," said Probation Officer Christopher Ruess last night in an address at the Twenty-fourth Avenue Methodist church in East Oakland. "Our schools and playgrounds should provide them," he added.

"The lack of wholesome work for all men and of wholesome play for all children, of due work and play for both men and children, is the cause of nine-tenths of all our crime. Give us wholesome work and wholesome play, the natural moralizers of the nation, and crime and immorality will practically disappear and crime be reduced to a medical residuum, the treatment of degeneracy inherited from a wrong-headed civilization."

Nothing more significant was said in the recent Men and Religion Forward Movement than Raymond Robbins' declaration that society must provide wholesome work, employment, for each and every man, or the present order of society must yield to another. Add to that the message of Alexander, the boys' specialist of the movement, that every boy must play, and every neighborhood and church must recognize the child's birthright to play, and you have the social gospel. Courage, experiment and experience will do the rest."

Request Made by Latham Terrace Improvement Club Bears Fruit.

UPPER FRUITVALE, March 18.—The widening of Twenty-fifth avenue, from East Twentieth to East Twenty-fifth streets, is to be taken up by the authorities following a request made to Street Commissioner Baccus, by the Latham Terrace Improvement Club. This was reported at the last meeting of the club by the president, L. W. Hyden. Secretary B. Birch read a communication from the Latham Terrace Improvement Club, agreeing to an early date to discuss a plan of action on the paving of the center of Twenty-sixth avenue that the curbing and paving may not be delayed.

At the last meeting of the Steiner Terrace Improvement Club ten new members were enrolled. The club will request the commissioners to provide additional police protection for the Upper Fruitvale district.

The Taxpayers' Club met in the Davis street assembly hall yesterday and carefully considered every phase of the trunk-line sewer question. It is the sense of the club that the trunk-line sewer should be opened without delay.

The Mothers' Club of Fruitvale School No. 3 will hold an open meeting on the evening of March 20 at the school house, for the purpose of discussing the proposal to establish an intermediate high school in the district. The club will request the commissioners to provide additional police protection for the Upper Fruitvale district.

HYPNOTIZED WHEN HE MADE WILL, IS CHARGE

STOCKTON, March 18.—Claiming that their brother, Frank Lagomarsino, had secured a deed to the property of the Lagomarsino family by fraud, Lawrence and John Lagomarsino have filed suit seeking the return of the property, or $40,000 damages, $300 rentals and profits from which they have been deprived by what they claim to be the conspiracy of their brother, Frank Lagomarsino and John Lagomarsino, claiming in a petition for letters of administration upon their brother's estate, filed in the Superior court, that Frank Lagomarsino and his wife, Louise, had hypnotized the father during his last illness and had secured from him a deed to the garden tract, contrary, the brothers say, to the intentions of the father.

CHAMP CLARK CLUB FORMED AT VALLEJO

VALLEJO, March 18.—The Champ Clark Club of Vallejo has inaugurated its campaign and will hold a big mass meeting on Wednesday night, March 21. The object of the meeting is to form an organization of workingmen that will eliminate strikes or boycotts, establish self-sustaining employment bureaus and adjust labor difficulties by arbitration. The proposed name for the organization is the American Arbitration Association, with a motto of "Justice, Peace, Harmony and Prosperity."

OFFICERS OF AMERICAN TOBACCO CO. ELECTED

NEW YORK, March 18.—The new board of directors of the American Tobacco Company met today and elected the following officers: Percival S. Hill, president; E. S. Edwards, J. P. Hanlon, G. W. Hill, M. C. Patterson and T. B. Yullo, vice-presidents; J. P. Wilcox, secretary, and J. M. W. Hicks, treasurer.

SAN LEANDRO HAS MEASLES EPIDEMIC

SAN LEANDRO, March 18.—San Leandro is in the grip of an epidemic of measles. Within the last ten days more than 62 cases have been reported and the doctors are busy attending their patients. The spread of the disease is now believed to have been checked. As yet there is no talk of closing the public school. Both children and adults are the sufferers.

MADE THREE EXPEDITIONS TO ARCTIC REGIONS

The late REAR ADMIRAL GEORGE W. MELVILLE.

REAR ADMIRAL MELVILLE DIES

Was Authority on Northern Exploration and Famous Naval Engineer.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—Honorary pallbearers who will act at the funeral on Wednesday of Rear Admiral Geo. W. Melville, retired, who died at his home yesterday, will include Lieutenant-General Arthur MacArthur, U. S. A., retired; Col. John P. Nicholson, rear admiral; E. C. Pendleton and Captain J. R. Edwards, George Westinghouse, Pittsburg, representing the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; Robert S. Griffin of the naval society; President Humphreys of the engineers' club; New York; Henry G. Bryant, representing the Geographical and Arctic Societies; and Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, State health officer of Pennsylvania.

The active pallbearers will be a detachment of chief petty officers of the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

DIES OF PARALYSIS.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—Rear Admiral George Walker Melville, U. S. A., retired, died at his home yesterday of paralysis. He was national commander of the Loyal Legion at the time of his death, and was a noted authority on Arctic exploration, as well as engineering and naval affairs.

Rear Admiral Melville, who was placed on the retired list January 10, 1903, was 72 years old. For sixteen years he was chief of the bureau of steam engineering in the navy department. He was appointed an assistant engineer in the navy in 1861, and was a member of both the Jeannette and the Greely relief expeditions to the Arctic circle.

He was a past president of both the American Academy of Mechanical Engineers and the American Society of Naval Engineers. At the time of his death he was the president of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

Interment will be made in Laurel Hill cemetery, this city, on Wednesday.

HAD NOTABLE CAREER.

George Walker Melville was born in New York City, but made his home in Philadelphia for many years. His world-wide fame as an engineer in the navy was added to by his exploits in the Arctic as an explorer. No officer in the American navy for half a century was probably better known than Admiral Melville. He entered the service in 1851, and although only twenty years of age, he was soon appointed third assistant engineer in the navy.

While serving on the Wachusett, which was refitting in the Brazilian port of Bahia, the Confederate ship Florida came into port. She declared a challenge to fight and it was decided to "run" her. Objection was made to this on the ground that the shock would tear the Wachusett's boilers from their lashings and all below decks would be killed.

"I'll run the engines alone just before the crash. There need be only one man sacrificed," announced young Melville. A steamman named Bradley refused to desert Melville. The two men ran the engines when the Wachusett bore down on the Florida. The capture was effected, Melville escaping with merely a cut on the hand.

Admiral Melville made three expeditions to the Arctic. He was chief engineer of the ill-fated bark Jeannette, which left the United States in 1879 and was crushed in ice, after drifting helplessly in the fogs for nearly two years. Congress promoted Admiral Melville and granted to him a gold medal for heroic services in the Arctic. He was appointed engineer in chief of the navy in 1887 and served for nearly ten years. He was retired with the rank of Rear Admiral in 1903. He was known as one of the organizers of the present "new navy."

Melville was married to Miss Estella Smith Folle on October 17, 1905, his first wife having died many years previously.

When George C. Pardee begged Abe Ruef to support him for Governor in 1906, the "Curly Boss" refused on the ground that Pardee was such a blankety-blank liar that nobody could believe a word he said. Ever since that distressful occasion Dr. Pardee has been doing his level best to prove that Ruef's estimate of him was correct. Here is a sample of the mendacity he puts forth from the backdoor of the Enquirer over his nom de plume of "The Way-farer":

"THE TRIBUNE seems to continue to be a member of Mr. Herrin's more or less honorable journalistic garde du corps. And every time anybody pokes Mr. Herrin THE TRIBUNE, earning its stipend, squalls. The arrangement, is no doubt, profitable to both parties—Mr. Herrin needs defenders, and THE TRIBUNE, of course, needs the honorarium. If Mr. Herrin can afford it, though, it's nobody's business—and THE TRIBUNE hasn't blushed for so long that it has forgotten how."

Dr. Pardee's animosity toward W. F. Herrin is easily explained. When he was a candidate for re-election in 1906, Dr. Pardee personally importuned Mr. Herrin to give him the support of the Southern Pacific, and pleaded in vain. Herrin refused to accept his pledges of good faith and loyalty for the same reason that Ruef declined to accept them.

Like a woman scorned, Dr. Pardee has been possessed of a holy hatred for Herrin and the Southern Pacific ever since.

In 1902 Pardee was given the nomination for Governor by the support of Ruef, Herrin and the Southern Pacific, and E. H. Harriman decided the election in his favor at a critical stage of the campaign by sending out a telegram from New York urging his subordinates to do all in their power to elect Pardee. That is how Pardee came to be elected Governor over Franklin K. Lane, now-Interstate Commerce Commissioner.

In the paragraph quoted above Dr. Pardee makes statements and insinuations which he knows to be absolutely false. In making them he mouths the venom of a disappointed and discredited politician who cherishes an undying hatred for men who helped nominate and elect him in 1902 (Herrin and Ruef in particular), but who refused to support him in 1906 because he did not keep the pledges he made to get his first nomination. He knows that W. F. Herrin is taking no part in political affairs and that Judge Lovett has strictly enjoined Southern Pacific employees to keep their hands off politics, but the mendacious habit which ruined his political prospects in 1902 still clings to him and from week to week he repeats with malignant iteration the stale slanders which he invented to cover his humiliation and defeat in 1906, and to avenge the grievances which have rankled in his mind for the past six years.

Since then other misfortunes have come to still further sour his temper and distemper his mind. His political partner has been sent to San Quentin to keep company with Abe Ruef, and the men in whose company he is now training regard him with a cold contempt which take little pains to conceal. They know how he got the nomination in 1902. They also know why he failed to get the nomination in 1906. They know he solicited in person the support of W. F. Herrin and Abe Ruef, also the reason why they declined to support him a second time. They know why his head and his toe are sore, and why he rails incessantly like the pirate's drunken parrot.

When the Canadian reciprocity agreement was pending it was asserted by the opponents of the agreement that the poultry breeders along the northern border would have their market ruined by the free importation of eggs from Canada. La Follette, Clapp and Cummins were positive that poultry farmers in the United States could not survive free competition with Canada. But their confident statements are made ridiculous by the trade statistics furnished by the Department of Commerce and Labor. In 1911 Canada bought 2,500,000 dozen eggs from the United States and sold this country less than one-third that number in return. Canadian dealers buy eggs in large quantities in this country to export to other countries. The extreme cold of the long winters in Canada keeps hens from laying freely, hence fresh eggs are scarce and high during the winter months. That is why fresh eggs in large quantities are imported from the United States.

Of course the Hon. William Kent voted to put sugar on the free list. Will not the abolition of the sugar duty ruin a flourishing and extensive California industry? And has Kent ever failed to vote against the interests of his constituents when the opportunity presented itself?

The attempt of the Roosevelt majority in the Oklahoma State Convention to gag and hogtie for Roosevelt the four Taft delegates elected by district conventions is another illustration of the Oyster Bay conception of the square deal.

The New York Globe calls on the President to stop the "blackguarding of Roosevelt." The colossal effrontery of this request is only equaled by its mendacity. Taft and not Roosevelt is the victim of blackguarding, and the blackguarding comes from the admirers and supporters of the Rough Rider. For two years the President has been the object of incessant blatherskite attacks leveled at him by Roosevelt's supporters, and the campaign literature now being sent out from Roosevelt's headquarters teems with blackguardly (and false) aspersions on Taft's character as a man and his record as President. The wolf is accusing the lamb of muddying the water.

The whole band of Roosevelt shouters in the House voted with the Democrats to put sugar on the free list, which prompts the Stockton Record (Insurgent) to say: "The Progressive Republicans in the House voted today for the free sugar bill. Where does Colonel Roosevelt stand? Is he Progressive, does he stand with the Republican stand-patters and the Louisiana and Colorado Democrats who voted to continue the tax on the workingman's sugar bowl? What has Roosevelt to say on this vital question? The California primary election will soon be held, hence now is the time to speak out. Does the Colonel endorse the position taken by his supporters in Congress, or does he stand with the producers of California? We agree with our Stockton contemporary that Roosevelt should declare himself."

WATCH OUT FOR YOUR JOB, BILL

—BY THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE CARTOONIST.

Liberty With an If.

Chester Rowell says it is "fine generosity" in the owners of the Fresno Republican to allow him to editorially advocate the nomination of Roosevelt when they favor the nomination of Taft. In his opinion this exemplifies the true ethics of journalism. That depends upon the point of view. It is not an idea that is likely to become popular. For the owner of a newspaper to allow his salaried employee to advocate in the editorial columns what the owner believes to be wrong and injurious to the public welfare is too absurd to be a debatable proposition. It is not a question of ethics, but of common sense. The owner is the responsible party. Every large journal employs many writers. Suppose the policy announced by the Fresno Republican were pursued by a big newspaper, a small army of salaried employees would be expressing individual opinions through its columns—opinions that would contradict each other and possibly be in opposition to the views of the proprietor. In that case the newspaper would become a medley of contradictions and a laughing stock. No newspaper proprietor attempts to control the personal opinions of its employees, but every proprietor with a sense of his own rights and dignity will insist upon his paper reflecting his own views and ideas instead of letting it be made a vehicle for disseminating the views and ideas of those he pays to do his work. Chester Rowell says the owners of the Republican have left him free to do as he pleases. They have done no such thing. There are limitations on his freedom of speech which he dare not transgress. He is permitted a certain latitude, but for all that his course is marked out for him. While a certain indulgence is granted him, he is still subject, in his editorial capacity, to the men who own the Republican, are responsible for its utterances and pay him his salary. His liberty of speech has a string to it, and, as the statement of the president of the Republican Publishing Company shows, he has been shown the gag and warned that if he goes beyond a defined boundary it will be applied to him.

RUSSIA'S CHINA ROAD

When the bumping tarantass rolls across the Chinese frontier into Mongolia it enters a kingdom of the Middle Ages flung down into the twentieth century. Feudal princes, lords of armies weaponed with spear and bow, tax and drive to the corvee their nomad serfs. A hierarchy of priests, whose divine head lives in a palace at Holy Urga, sways the multitude of superstition-steeped Mongols, and receives the homage of pilgrims wending their way from Siberia, from the Volga, from Tibet, from all Mongolia, to their Canterbury of Lamasism. In prostrate devotion the penitents girdle the Sacred City, before whose horde beggars dispute with dogs their common sustenance, and in whose compounds princes of the race of Genghis Khan, with armies of retainers, live bedless, batheless, lightless, in the felt huts of their race. Squallid, magnificent and good humored, kindly hospitality are linked to utter brutality. Sable furs and silks cover sheepskins worn until they drop from the body. Here and there among the natives a Chinese trading caravansary, alien, walled, peculiar, stands as of old the Hansatow, with merchant guilds and far-brought caravan goods. The Russian advance has been always eastward, towards an ice-free port on the Pacific. Cut off by the Japanese, the outlet north for Russia is through Mongolia, a straight path for Peikin and the heart of China. This is the century-old road of the tea trade. Here is the shortest route from Europe to the East. Here, through the deserts and the broken foothills of the Gobi plateau, lies the future redemption of the great unfettered land route to North China. The Chinese are themselves advancing into Kalgan. To this trading center across the path a Russian railway may yet pass, and her colonists make fruitful the unpeopled wilds of Mongolia. A way of adventure and strangeness, where the years turn back, is this old road of the Golden Horde, leading down past the ancestral homes of the Turks to the Great Wall.

SAFE STEEL RAIL

The search for a steel rail able to withstand the heavier wheel loads which nowadays put it under great stress and frequently cause disastrous wrecks has been entrusted to the hands of a joint conference of railway managers and rail manufacturers, after full discussion of the problem at a conference in New York. As it was the unanimous sentiment that the situation demanded that everything practicable should be done, the traveling public may reasonably look forward to immunity from the peril that resides in defective rails. The joint committee has in hand the report of the government investigation into the Manchester wreck on the Lehigh Valley road last summer, which was caused by a broken rail found to be structurally weak. The findings lean to the opinion that it is a matter of divided responsibility between railways and manufacturers, with the burden of blame resting on the former. It is stated, on the one hand, that the mills are turning out the steel which they are required to make under the specifications given them by the roads, that current railway practice in the use of hard steel rails and high wheel pressures has nearly or quite reached the limit of endurance of the metal, and that the primary cause of the Manchester wreck was the formation of fissures and seams in the heart of the rail due to overstrain, "aided by defective metal in the web." The railroads admit the danger arising from the increased weight of locomotives, and they say that the limit of weight has not yet been reached, but they demur to the statement that the mills make such rails as they desire or as their specifications call for. For proof, they point to the presence of defective metal in the broken Lehigh rail, showing that slag had been rolled into rails supposedly made from solid steel. The public, however, is not absorbingly interested in the technical side of the discussion. What is more to the point is that the responsible parties have come to a mutual recognition of the fact that a safer rail should be provided and that the solution of the problem rests in such able hands as Presidents Willard, Lorrie, Muller and Knuttschmitt on the part of the railroads in conjunction with such representative steel makers as Presidents Farrell, Schwab, Patton, Crawford, Clark and others—Washington Post.

HAIR MAY BE CHEAP

English hair dealers are not at all pleased with the Chinese edict, which threatens to do away with the pigtail. Many of them are angry because they foresee a glut of Chinese hair on the European markets for many years by reason of this sale of hundreds of thousands of pigtails, which will result in the cheapening of wigs and fringes. But one young woman belonging to a big West End firm, in the absence of a principal, while not speaking in his name, admitted that the effect was a serious matter for the trade, though it would be greatly beneficial to the customers, says the New York Herald. "These pigtails," she said, "will glut the English, German and American markets which are chiefly supplied with material for hair nets and fringes from the lovely browns and darker hues of Bohemia and Moravia, at a price which reaches $12 and $13 a pound in the best qualities. "But of late years Chinese hair, which is coarser, has been greatly used, because now we are able to treat it in such a way that it can be greatly refined and permanently colored, and so takes the place of the more expensive European hair upon which for many years society had to depend entirely. "Of course, this edict will result in a great cheapening of wigs, fringes and nets, which will mean less profit to the manufacturer, because there is great danger of a slump of hair in the markets of the world, unless something very unlikely the Chinese exporters hold up their supplies. Experience teaches that the Chinese are not built that way. "On the other hand, it may result in profit from many who have denied themselves the necessary fringe and other additions to the making up of pretty heads, but not to an extent to make the business any more profitable to the manufacturer. "It is all nonsense to imagine that any danger lies in Chinese hair, for it goes through so many processes in preparation for use before it is retailed in its various forms that nothing that may be thought objectionable remains. "Chinese hair can be made almost as fine and sweet as the best Austrian hair, and so, while the trade may suffer, it will benefit the ladies, but of course in the best coiffures it is the makeup which will cost more than the actual material."

BRINGING BACK THE DEAD

A little girl, scarce three years old, lay for three days supposedly dead in her home in Minnesota, a victim of drowning. Just as her coffin was about to be lowered into the grave, fortunate discovery of moisture on the inside of the glass, caused investigation. She was found alive, resuscitated, and will recover. Within a few weeks several persons believed to be dead from asphyxiation in Chicago have been brought back to life by a machine called the pulmotor, which artificially causes the lungs to resume their duty and revitalizes the blood, restoring heart action. These instances show the tenacity with which the human body, in cases where no organic defect exists, clings to life. If little 3-year-old child's spark of life is strong enough to survive three days of unconsciousness, after drowning, for how long would the average adult's body be capable of restoration to life, where drowning has caused suspended animation? There is something fascinating in an analysis of the conditions, motives, surroundings and necessities that impel great men to the deeds that elevate them to greatness. During the days when they are fighting to achieve certain ends, partisanship and the confusing presence of other issues serve to render a clear perspective difficult. In later years, we view the work as a finished whole, read the last words of the creator and the laudatory comments of contemporaries and historians—and are inclined to accept the view that the work sprang full-fledged, from the concept of the great. It is only occasionally that a thoughtful observer who has observed the passage of events, exposes the hidden springs and gives us a fleeting insight into the odd influences that swayed the man who may have awayed, in turn, the destinies of a nation. Such an insight was afforded during a banquet at New York, when residents of that city gathered to pay a tribute to Abraham Lincoln. "Had he not been started by the refusal of the Missouri Compromise," declared Horace White, one of the speakers, "Lincoln doubtless would have lived and died in comparative obscurity, making a scant living as a circuit rider and known only to the tavern loungers who heard his stories. With Lincoln's conception of the thought that 'no nation can exist, half-free and half-slave,' he rose to greatness." This judgment may not be considered as biased or as taking from the great emancipator the credit due him, for Mr. White reported the celebrated Lincoln-Douglas debates for The Chicago Tribune and must have been in intimate touch with the war President. Stirred by the magic of an idea, with the ability to express his thoughts in marvellously simple and beautiful language, Lincoln swept to the White House from an origin as humble as could be imagined. It is interesting, even if idle, to speculate on conditions in the United States if he had not been roused to supreme effort and if the nation had lacked the magic of his person and thought at the crucial moment in its history—Seattle Times.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

George Hans and F. Hendrickson were chosen delegates to the Grand Parlor today by Brooklyn Parlor, Native Sons of the American Birthright. Hans and Hendrickson were elected as delegates to the Grand Parlor which will take place this year in Los Angeles. University Lodge, No. 3, of the Odd Fellows, entertained delegates from the lodges at San Leandro and Alvarado. Mayor Chapman made the address welcome, and James Hawley responded. A banquet was held in the Caliente hotel. A lodge of Foresters is soon to be started in Berkeley, according to the announcement made by a number of young men who are circulating petitions for a charter. An organization is expected to arise soon to look into the matter. Announcement was made this morning that the registration clerk will be able to take names up to the day of the bond election. It was first thought this was not the case, but District Attorney Reed rendered an opinion favoring the registration office remaining open. Codes that would not have allowed this have been repealed, according to his statement. The Epworth League of the Golden Gate M. E. church held an entertainment last night at the church Sunday school parlors. Robert Lathimer, Mr. Ulrich and several others contributed to the program. Notice has been filed by the city council that Thirteenth street, from Webster to Madison, is to be graded, curbed and macadamized. The work will be rushed to completion. There were several pro-

WEALTHY WOMAN IS BURNED IN EXPLOSION

AUBURN, Ill., March 12.—Mrs. Helen Leet, one of the wealthiest women in Northern Illinois, was burned fatally when an explosion in her home, a few years ago Mrs. Leet figured in a sensational divorce suit. She brought action against Matthew Chapman, her husband of a few months, and while the suit was in progress, attempted to oust him from her home. He employed several guards, as bodyguards, and built an underground tunnel into his house further to safeguard him.

SULTAN ANXIOUS TO RESIGN.

PUTS AN END TO STOMACH MISERY

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia Go in Five Minutes.

Every family here ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach Trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterward.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lay like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion. Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at your drug store, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin contain more than sufficient to cure any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other Stomach Trouble.

AGED VETERAN IS ROBBED ON TRAIN

Carl Lierman Turns Willing Ear to Chatter of A-fable Stranger.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Robbed by an affable stranger who scopped up an acquaintance with him on a Seventh street local train en route from Oakland to this city, Carl Lierman, an aged member of the G. A. R. and resident of the Yountville Home, was forced to appeal to the police early this morning. After making a report of the case Corporal MacCormack of the Harbor station procured lodgings for the old man in a nearby hotel.

THREE ARE SEARCHED FOR STOLEN MONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—In response to a wireless message from the Yountville, Riverside, patrolmen O'Shaughnessy and Scollin met the vessel on its arrival last night in an effort to locate a thief who is alleged to have stolen $27.50 from Harry Anderson, the Yountville Home. Anderson claimed that the money had been taken from his berth and pointed out three passengers whom he suspected. All were searched as were also their rooms but the money was not found.

MAN HURLED TO DEATH FROM ROLLER COASTER

VENICE, Cal., March 12.—John P. Taylor, 26 years old and employed by a circus that is wintering here, was killed on the roller coaster here last evening.
Taylor was standing up in the car and was hurled out from the highest point as it rounded a sharp curve. He was thrown to the track twenty feet below and the same car in which he had been riding rolled over him. He was dead when picked up. Taylor's parents live in Cincinnati.

"Excuse Me" bears the distinction of cranking too many laughs into the two hours it runs over the rails at the Macdonough Theater. A surfeit of joy is hard on the waistband and "Excuse Me" surfeits all over the place. Neither Hughes nor Savage claim credit on the program for offering a comedy for your appreciation. Not at all. It is a "Pullman carnival in three sections." Carnival seems to hit it off right.

"Excuse Me" has a story but not a plot. There is a difference when measured by rules and reason, but really you don't care whether there is or not, as far as "Excuse Me" is concerned. If you intend going the whole length of the play, there is laughter from the time the curtain goes up on a Pullman sleeper. The whole thing takes place in an overland train. The idea is a joy, which is a reason why you begin to chuckle at once. The second reason, by the way, is the early entrance of the porter. There are porters and porters, and perhaps you see no cause for rejoicing in one. But this porter is Willis P. Sweetnam—get us.

JUST AS FUNNY.
Sweetnam is just as funny as when he used to have the whole stage to himself. In those days when the minstrel show was alive. His joy at getting joy out of the joys of others spreads joyousness upon him, which would indicate that Sweetnam himself is a show. He is, but there are others.

We have one Sidney Greenstreet, who as Jimmy Wellington is on his way to Reno for the usual purpose. His wife happens to be aboard. Love's situation. There are also a person and his wife, who are on a honey-

'STABBED IN THE BACK'

How Many Oakland Readers Have Had Those Sudan Twinges.

Have you ever had a "twinge" in the back?
Does your back ache with a dull, heavy, draggy throb?
Is it hard to straighten up after stooping?
Hard to arise from a chair or turn in bed?
Is the urine dark colored? Passages irregular?
When your kidneys need attention, use a tested kidney remedy.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has cured thousands. Convincing proof of merit in the following statement:

W. S. Gilbert, 1755 Vine St. Berkeley, Cal., says: "For about two years I was troubled by pains in my back and hips and was unable to get relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Since taking this remedy, I have had no further cause for complaint."

moon after some thirty years of married life. Inasmuch as neither would let out their identity and try to act like the rest of the party we have more laughs. There are a hold-up, a peanut butcher and a fuzzy dog to increase the merriment.

However, we haven't told the story. It concerns an eloping couple (played by Ann Murdock and Charles Meakins) who started out to be married in Chicago on the evening of the groom-to-be, a United States army officer, was leaving for the Philippines. Their taxicab breaks down and the marriage does not come off as per schedule. There is just time to catch the train and the girl goes off board to bid her husband-almost farewell. Whereupon the train starts and she has no opportunity of getting off.

A LA BRIDAL PARTY.
A couple of the lieutenant's friends have arranged things a la bridal party and there is nothing to do but pretend marital relations. To recognize the proprieties the couple quarrel every night and refuse to occupy the same section. They make it up at breakfast and remain on speaking terms throughout the day. It isn't until Reno is about to be reached that the lieutenant discovers that there is a minister on board.

Ann Murdock proves of a Billie Burke type without going the limit. She makes herself the very young and very silly creature that the playwright intended. Meakins is the lieutenant and is accepted as sufficient by a young girl and removed the cargo. The vessel will be thoroughly over and the hull well examined before the sailing on Thursday, to avoid further damage from a new outbreak. Many sightseers thronged the wharf to see the ship and Patrick Forrester, a stevedore, took advantage of the excitement and tried to get away with some loot, but was apprehended, had a good bath in the bay and a trip to police headquarters. He was booked on a charge of burglary and a suitcase full of women's apparel was the evidence.

WORK BEGINS ON NEW ROAD.
AUBURN, March 17.—The Southern Pacific has shipped a large survey outfit to Fernley, Nev., to start work ahead of the grading outfits that are to begin work in April on the roadbed for the Fernley Northern Railroad, which is to run to Susanville and Big Valley in Lassen county.

WIVES BAR FONG FROM COUNTRY

Bigamous Past of Celestial Prevents Return; Branded "Undesirable."

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—The Asian Exclusion League has received news from Washington of the success of its efforts to prevent the return of Fong Bow, a wealthy local Chinese merchant, on the grounds of bigamy. Fong took a trip to the Orient recently after obtaining the proper papers for readmittance. The league began to pry into his family life and discovered wives in Honolulu, Manila, Shanghai and Peking. This evidence was turned over to the immigration authorities on Fong's return, with the result that he was branded as an "undesirable" under the general immigration laws.

Fong contested the ruling on the ground his case had nothing to do with the general immigration laws. Appeal was taken to the department of commerce and labor, which has now decided against him.

CONGRATULATE KING.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 12.—Italian residents of Kansas City, at a mass meeting last night, called a message to King Victor Emmanuel congratulating him upon escaping death at the hands of his would-be assassin and wishing him many years of life and a reign of peace.

BUILDER DIES.
NEW YORK, March 12.—John Moore, aged 71, a prominent contractor, is dead at his home here. He erected federal buildings in New York and many cities throughout the United States.

TOOTH IN HIS APPENDIX.
FORT MADISON, Ia., March 12.—Frank Niles, son of a local grocer, who was operated on for appendicitis and in whose appendix was found part of a human tooth, died yesterday.

Vapor Treatment For Catarrh

The HYOMEI vapor treatment is especially recommended in stubborn cases of chronic catarrh of long standing, but remember that the inhaler should be used daily as usual.

This treatment only takes a few minutes time before going to bed. Pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEI into a kitchen bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe for several minutes the vapor that arises.

You will be surprised at the results of this treatment; it makes the head feel fine and clear; you will sleep better, and that stuffed up feeling will gradually disappear.

This method is also used to break up the worst cold the head over night. A bottle of Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-mei) costs 50 cents at drug-gists everywhere. Complete outfit which includes the little pocket inhaler $1.00.

No stomach distress; just breathe HYOMEI and end catarrh and all diseases of the breathing organs.

No Cocaine or other injurious drugs in Hyomei

FIRE BREAKS OUT IN STEAMER HOLD

Hoseman Dies of Suffocation While Fighting Flames on Vessel.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—While the steamer Manchuria of the Pacific Mail line lay moored at her dock yesterday afternoon a fire broke out, which is supposed to have been smoldering for a time in the cargo as the result of spontaneous combustion.

It was necessary to resort to the fire department of the land and water forces before the flames were extinguished, with the loss of the life of Thomas Ahearn, a hoseman of engine No. 35, who ventured into the hold to combat the flames and was suffocated by smoke.

Several of the firemen met with minor injuries before the danger was over, and it was due to the new helmet recently adopted by the fire department that there was not a greater loss of life.

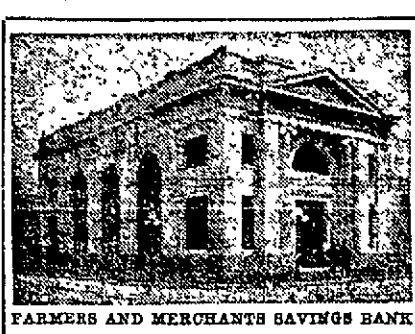

The cargo was principally cotton bales and government supplies en route to Cavite and Manila to the quartermaster's department of the army and navy.

The damage to the vessel was slight and the fire will not interfere with the Manchuria sailing at 1 o'clock on Thursday, only being delayed two days longer than the usual sailing time, which is Tuesday.

CAST UP ON REEF.
Although one of the finest ships that plies the Pacific waters, the Manchuria has had her troubles, the most serious of which occurred when on August 20, 1906, the large vessel was cast up on a reef off Rabbit Island, near the island of Oahu, on which Honolulu is situated, and rested on the coral beds for nearly a month.

After the fire was out Captain Dickson, master of the Manchuria, who was not on board at the time of the conflagration, started to work with a force of men and removed the cargo. The vessel will be thoroughly over and the hull well examined before the sailing on Thursday, to avoid further damage from a new outbreak. Many sightseers thronged the wharf to see the ship and Patrick Forrester, a stevedore, took advantage of the excitement and tried to get away with some loot, but was apprehended, had a good bath in the bay and a trip to police headquarters. He was booked on a charge of burglary and a suitcase full of women's apparel was the evidence.

BLAMES OFFICIALS FOR BOND TROUBLE

Chief of Police White Declares Responsibility Rests on District Attorney.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Chief of Police White this morning declared that the responsibility of the present predicament of the district attorney's bail bond should be placed upon the shoulders of the district attorney. It was Assistant District Attorney McNutt who first began the campaign against the district attorney's bail bond. The matter was put up to the police department and Chief White now declares that the district attorney must look to his own laurels.

"If the bond and warrant clerk's office which is a part of the district attorney's office, would fix a higher bail in cases where the police conduct raids and arrest great numbers of offenders, the bail bond operators would be foiled in their efforts. Part of the responsibility there does not rest upon the police but upon the district attorney."

It is claimed by the district attorney's office, however, that the police judges fixed the bail and if they placed bonds at a higher figure than is customary, it would only be necessary for the police magistrate to have the amount reduced.

S. P. PAYS RENT FOR ITS OWN PROPERTY

SACRAMENTO, March 12.—According to information given out in this city yesterday the defunct real estate firm of Tucker & Estes or some member of that firm is to be asked by the Southern Pacific company to account for $48,000 said to have been paid that firm for rentals of properties the railroad company purchased some time ago.

The railroad company is said to have overlooked the fact that it owned this property and continued to pay rent for it until another realty firm applied for the commission to handle the rental business. The company purchased a number of residence properties adjoining its shops and yards. When the agent who made the purchases left that employment no record was made of the matter in so far as collection of rents was concerned.

SEEK BIG DAMAGES

STOCKTON, March 12.—W. T. Hammer, a farmer residing on the Lower Sacramento road, has filed a suit against Wright Covell, seeking $1000 damages for injuries received on the night of March 12, 1911, when, he claims, an automobile driven by Lester Covell and owned by Wright Covell, struck his road wagon about three miles north of this city, throwing him to the road and injuring him so that he had to seek the attendance of a physician.

RAID TENDERLOIN RESORT

STOCKTON, March 12.—Following instructions from District Attorney E. P. Foltz, seven officers late Saturday night raided the tenderloin quarters at Holt, a small station on the Santa Fe, and arrested one man and ten women. The prisoners were brought to this city and booked on a charge of vagrancy.

BURSTS HIS BONDS; FLOORS OFFICIALS

Alleged Madman Gives Battle to Hospital Attendants; Yesterday Busy Day.

Breaking the heavy straps which bound him hand and foot to a cot in the detention ward of the receiving hospital Charles Heenington, a plumber, of 221 Brookdale avenue, Melrose, gave battle to police officers and attendants last night, flooring those who sought to restrain him. Again this morning, after loosening his bonds, he put up a struggle that kept four men busy for five minutes during which time both Steward Platt and Steward Travers received painful injuries in their efforts to control the alleged madman.

Heenington was taken into custody at his home last evening by the Melrose police after a hard battle. After his arrival at the hospital and in spite of the fact that he was handcuffed tightly he floored a police officer twice. After he was bound to the cot, he strained and struggled until he but "the back" from heavy leather straps, gained his feet and attacked those in the room.

This morning, in an uncontrollable manner he freed himself partially and when the attendants, assisted by Police Officer Gardner, attempted to bind him again, he protested and with unusual strength succeeded for some time in taxing the efforts of four men. Relatives of the man declared that he is perfectly rational, but Dr. Cullen of Fruitvale has pronounced him insane and he will be confined in the court today for examination. He threatened vengeance upon his captors and refused to be pacified.

WAS BUSY DAY

Yesterday was the busiest day experienced at the receiving hospital for several months. In all sixteen cases were treated, most of them being of more or less serious nature. Several Sunday braais sent half a dozen cases there for treatment.

Gus Thomahlen of 348 Thirty-fifth street appeared with a badly bruised head, relating that he had been struck by a rock when he had intervened when another man was beating his wife. He also received other bruises during the set-to.

H. C. Deveney of San Leandro said that he had been held up at Second and Washington streets and relieved of his watch and coin. As evidence of the experience he displayed several bruises upon his head and neck which had evidently been inflicted with some blunt instrument. Steward Travers patched up the wounds.

H. A. Hansen was struck by a Southern Pacific train at the foot of Thirtieth avenue and badly injured. It was attended by Dr. Irwin.

Ed Jones, a sailor engaged in a riot fight at Twelfth and Broadway with several men and carried the marks of the fray to the hospital. The constable Tom Wood, when he was arrested, was later identified as the man wanted for the robbery of the bank of 1400 and 1400 Westminister, B. C. He was taken to the police station.

A Case of "Have-to"

Every one must rebuild, each day a little, in order to keep the body healthy. The daily energy of brain, nerves and muscles destroys some of the cells and these must of course be rebuilt each day.

Now suppose you observe some trouble with the body and that you are slowly going from bad to worse. Wouldn't you accept the evidence as a hint from Mother Nature that either you are doing some hurtful thing, or more likely, that you are not selecting the food which contains the elements Nature requires for the daily rebuilding.

For instance, suppose you have an increasing tendency towards nervousness or perchance "Brain-fag" and Nervous Prostration. Stop the habit or food which may be the cause and use food which you know contains the things required.

Analysis shows the soft, gray filling of Brain and Nerve centers to consist of Albumin, Water and Phosphate of Potash. Now, unless your food contains these elements, you cannot rebuild and make good the daily destruction of this gray substance, a little being broken down each day by brain work and nervous tension.

There is a safe and sure food which can be relied upon and which does contain the required elements for rebuilding.

A trial will prove its worth to the user of

OF SEXES IN

WARFARE

Mrs. Desford Declares Amazonian Forces Will Give Battle---Real Battle.

LONDON, March 18.—That actual warfare between the sexes is not far away is the prediction made here by Mrs. Desford of the Women's Freedom League, who, since the inauguration of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Tuke, has assumed the distinction of being the most prominent suffragette out of jail.

Mrs. Desford leads a wing of the suffragettes that represents the half way element between the violent militants and the "hopefuls." "If man refuses to recognize woman as his equal in every way, war, and bloody war at that, must result from the inequality," declared Mrs. Desford. "Governments have been warned, followed by long and humble petitions, and men have been beseeched to yield to the just pleas of the women."

"Marriage strikes on the part of the women may have some effect, but I predict that the feeling of hatred which must inevitably follow continued refusal of woman's demands for her just and equitable rights, will result in a more dire ending. I hope these warnings which are being made constantly now will be heeded by the legislators of England, and other countries as well, before it is too late."

Braves Death

HALIFAX, N. S., March 18.—Wireless messages from the government steamer Seal tells of the finding on Bird Island Lighthouse in Magdalen Islands a woman and her baby, half starved and suffering from the effects of exposure which they had undergone during the ten days that followed the drowning of the lighthouse and husband and father, Peter Bourque.

When found Mrs. Bourque was so weak that she could barely crawl along the deck. The baby was so emaciated it is feared it will die. Ten days ago, Mrs. Bourque said, her husband fell from the lighthouse and was drowned.

"Every day and night since," she told the Seal's men, "I have been awake. I have kept the little one in my arms and at intervals of five and ten minutes kept the lighthouse bell tolling in the hope that some vessel would appear and send me assistance. My baby suffered terribly from cold and cried constantly, but I kept the little one in my arms and carried it with me every time I crawled in the light tower to fill the lamps and keep them burning. I cried with joy when I saw the Seal."

Woman Is Killed

LOS ANGELES, March 18.—Miss L. E. Whitman, 22 years old, was almost instantly killed and three others more or less seriously injured when a flying street car crushed their automobile at the intersection of Santa Barbara avenue and Western boulevard yesterday.

Miss Whitman, who is said to have been hurried in front of the car and badly mangled.

Charles Evans of Alhambra, who owned and drove the car, was thrown out and badly cut and bruised. Pauline Wickman, 17, and Glenn Wickman, 18, sister and brother of the dead girl, were less seriously hurt.

From the statement of witnesses it appears that two cars on the Georgia street line were passing the crossing at a high speed in an effort to make up time. The automobile struck across the street behind the first and endeavored to reach the other side. It was struck by the second car and demolished. The police state that a rigid investigation to fix the blame will be made.

Widow Is Cause

LOS ANGELES, March 18.—Two cripples quarreled over a widow upon this morning, with the result that F. W. Emery shot and killed himself after wounding F. R. Meadows in both arms.

Each man was said to have been paying attentions to Mrs. M. Carlisle of 2396 Madison street, sister of the late John B. Molsant, narrowly escaped her husband's fate here yesterday, when, in descending after an exhibition flight, her monoplane struck the ground at too steep an angle, bounding into the air and turning turtle.

Miss Molsant jumped a few feet just as the body of the machine dropped. She was helped from the wreckage unhurt. The monoplane was damaged badly.

Near Death

SHREVEPORT, La., March 18.—Miss Mollie Molsant, sister of the late John B. Molsant, narrowly escaped her husband's fate here yesterday, when, in descending after an exhibition flight, her monoplane struck the ground at too steep an angle, bounding into the air and turning turtle.

Miss Molsant jumped a few feet just as the body of the machine dropped. She was helped from the wreckage unhurt. The monoplane was damaged badly.

Friends Remember

YONKERS, N. Y., March 18.—Clara Morris, the footlight favorite of a generation ago, who has been ill in bed and blind for three years, was 62 years old yesterday.

Messages were received from all over the United States, and her rooms were fragrant with flowers sent by friends of other days. Recently she has been suffering from a cold, and while her condition has improved, she is very weak. No one has been allowed to see her since her illness began.

Her husband, who has been her constant companion during the long period, is himself ill in bed with heart trouble and a heavy cold. The long strain caused his collapse.

Friends have taken care of encumbrances on the home, so that she need never worry more about having to leave it.

THE KISSING HABIT

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

THERE is nothing more ludicrous and undignified than the senseless habit that women have drifted into, that of greeting one another with a kiss, upon meeting in public places. Regardless of hats and veilings, they rush at each other and embrace. In the greatest majority of cases there is positively no meaning in the kiss and the dangers they run are numerous, as after a veil has been worn an hour out of doors it becomes soiled by moisture, dust and smoke and is a veritable nest for unhealthy microbes. If women could realize the chances which they take by touching such veiling with their lips they would hesitate at kissing even their sister or dear grandmother. Then the picture they make is absurd, as hats become tangled and twisted out of true and general straightenings has to take place, to restore the normal equilibrium, much to the amusement of the onlooker.

Then, too, aside from the amusing picture which they offer gratis, they should learn that kissing is dangerous. Young people should be careful whom they kiss. Scientists have proven that the lips are capable of carrying contagion to a much greater extent than any other part of the anatomy. And an innocent meaningless touch of the lips in just a friendly kiss may carry with it a disease that will disfigure the face for all time. When I see strangers fondle and kiss a lovely baby, just because they love children and the baby is sweet, I resent the habit of kissing heartily. Parents, as well as the unthinking nurse, should be reprimanded for allowing the innocent infant to be subjected to such danger of inoculation that might ruin its beauty in after years. No one can know what minute germs may be lurking on the lips of the most pure, healthy person. The lips are exposed to the elements and to the impurities flying in the air of large cities, where smoke and dirt fly about in place of fresh air.

The Creator has protected the eyes by eyelashes, the nose by delicate little hairs that grow inside of the nostrils and the lips of men with mustaches. But women have been given nothing but a little sense to protect her most beautiful feature, her lips. Therefore women and girls cannot be too careful to guard and protect their lips from danger. Remember, guarding one's blessings is a proof of our gratitude.

window! Falling of such ventilation, the strictest care should be bestowed on every closet to keep it free from close, disagreeable odors. As a beginning, the closet must be absolutely clean. Shelves, walls, floor and inside of door should be washed frequently with water to which a liberal quantity of violet ammonia has been added. After it is thoroughly dry the shelves should be covered with paper to keep out the dust. On the floor a heavy, smooth wrapping paper, covering all cracks, is most desirable. A piece of strong white muslin hung against the walls is good protection for the garments. Over this hang your sachets, suspended by ribbons from the hooks, and filled with your favorite perfume. Dried rose leaves make one of the best fillers for sachets, because they never lose their rich odor. Even better are dried sweet grass blossoms, sometimes called "sweet clover." These two odors are redolent of the outdoors and they never grow stale.

Answer to Queries

RED NOSE.—The skin of the nose, which is a rule delicate, in these cases may be toughened by a wash consisting of equal parts of cologne and soft water. A Berlin skin specialist advises the application to the nose for a few seconds of small pieces of cold, moistened benzine. Great caution must be observed not to use the benzine in a room where there is fire or a lighted lamp or gas jet.

MARGARET S. M.—The nose becomes red chiefly through exposure to extremes of temperature or as a result of tight clothing, or through overeating—especially if the food is hot or strongly salted or highly seasoned. Hot drink, such as tea or coffee, may also have the same effect. The disturbance of certain functions of the body likewise encourages the appearance of this blemish. Indigestion and constipation, particularly must be overcome if the redness is to be banished.

MAUDE R.—I have not much faith in home made sachet powders and perfumes. Try to overcome the musty smell in your closet by putting charcoal in the corners of the closet. The place where your clothing must hang should be one of the best ventilated portions of a home. Happy the woman whose closets contain at least one

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

SCHOOL BAND WILL BE HEARD IN CLASSICS

Classical music will be given by the Durant school boys' band at the concert Thursday evening, March 21, in Rhea Institute, Seventeenth and San Pablo avenue. The recital will be followed by a dance. The program has been arranged by the members of the Durant School Mothers' Club. The proceeds of the affair will be placed in the treasury for the boys' band uniforms.

The members of the band are: William Kito, Lowell Ase, Bernard Lindstrom, William Gistrip, Russell Clinkenbeard, Chester Ross, Glenn Scott, Leslie Liehl, Frank George, Leslie Chinn, Byron Aronson, Arthur Anderson, Siegfried Lindstrom, Gladwin Nichols, George Lloyd, Leo McCourtney, Harry Stiles, Ben Strauss, Raymond Storm, Irving Chinn, Harvey Skeen, Harold Doell, Milton Buckley, Melville Farwell, John Eba, Rowland Jones, Arthur Wurch, Victor Kuhn, Gabriel Tiedeman, Fred Schuller, Oleville Hagon, Arthur Smith, Ross Andrews, Claude Mathew, Grant Snow, Wilbur Johnson, Irving Jernigan, Clifford Bekin, Charles Leonard, Fred Raymond, Frank Rivers, Lionel Watkins, Penton Doughty, Shirley Snow, Earl Doell, Ray Dickey, George Gordon and Eugene Ebb.

'OVER HILLS TO POOR HOUSE' NOT GOOD FORM

CHICAGO, March 18.—Use of the terms "poorhouse," "almshouse" and similar names as applied to charitable institutions may soon disappear in Cook and other Illinois counties.

Action to this effect was recently taken by the commissioners in Cook county through the work of Mrs. James C. Foster, who is now making the name effort in other parts of the state. In Cook county she has the aid of William C. George, head of a home for old men.

The terms "home" and "infirmary" are suggested as substitutes for county institutions of the kind. These, it is argued, appear more pleasing to persons who, on account of age or adversity, are compelled to seek public charity, the word "infirmary" suggesting medical treatment, and the word "home" cheer and comfort.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 18.—Seven thousand men and women who will take a complete religious census of Kansas City in two hours were appointed last night at the various churches. Tonight and one succeeding night, this week, they will be drilled at twenty-two district meetings.

Divided into committee and representing the Protestant, the Catholic and the Jewish churches, the workers will visit everyone of the 65,000 homes in the city between 2 and 4 o'clock on the afternoon of March 26. It will be the first non-sectarian religious census ever taken in Kansas City.

DROPS DEAD AT EXERCISES.

CLASS COLORS WORN AT GRANT

ARTHUR TAVEIRA.
—Bushnell Photo.

Recently the members of the graduating class of the Grant school received their pins and ribbons, which they now wear. The class colors are tan and light blue. Following the custom set by former graduates, the boys and girls have purchased tan and blue ribbons, which are worn during the school hours, together with the 1912 pins.

The officers of the June class are: Carl Rehmet, president; Margaret Eberts, vice-president; Narcissa Cerini, secretary; Moreland Leonhart, treasurer, and Arthur Taveira, sergeant-at-arms. The class quartet includes Arthur Taveira, Leslie Allen, Clyde Adams and Carl Nielsen.

The star basketball players of the Grant team are: Rehmet, center; McDonald, guard; Irish, guard; Adams, guard; Thompson, manager and forward; Ward, captain and forward. Last Wednesday the Grant boys defeated the Lafayette team in the Lafayette court by a score of 15 to 11.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS TO BE TAKEN IN TWO HOURS

CHICAGO, March 18.—John Fendlin, examined his revolver and a cartridge exploded.

"Ouch," yelled John Rossall, a friend, clutching his mouth and jaw with his hands. "Oh, John," said Fendlin, "this is awful. You know I didn't intend to shoot you."

"Oh, please," said Rossall, distressed. "There's your bullet and there's that wisdom tooth that just cost me $12 to have crowned. You're actually killing me, Fendlin!"

The lost tooth was the only injury.

BOYS HAVE LIVELY DAY OF SPORT AT PARK

The "Baby Giants" of De Fremery Park played a combination of Tomkins and De Fremery boys last Saturday morning in De Fremery Park, and won by a score of 15 to 8. Following is the lineup of the Baby Giants: Catcher, T. McAlister; pitcher, Tony Scanzafava; first base, B. Cleon; second base, G. Dur; third base, G. Holtz (captain); shortstop, G. Meyer; left field, E. Ball; center field, E. Gavali; right field, L. Clarke.

On the same morning the Tomkins Junior basketball team journeyed to Bushrod, where they played the Bushrod Juniors. The Tomkins boys put up a very clever exhibition of team work and individual basket shooting. Following are the members of the two teams and the tallies credited to each:

Tomkins team—Forwards, Alfred Maggall, 7; E. Adams, 11; center, M. Pickert; guards, Wm. Oglio, G. Russo.

Bushrod Juniors—Forwards, D. Victor, 2; E. Furrer, center, T. Campbell, 2; guards, L. O'Connell, 3; Holtz, 11; base, 24 to 4 in favor of Tomkins.

In the afternoon the Bushrod Intermediate failed to show up at De Fremery and thereby forfeited the game by a score of 9 to 0. At 2:30 p. m. the De Fremery Juniors crossed bats with the Juniors of Bushrod. The De Fremery team played a very clever exhibition of team work and individual basket shooting. Following is the lineup of the De Fremery team: Catcher, V. DeCola; forwards, L. Krone, M. Hodgman; guards, E. Converse, G. Barry, G. Ames, H. Donavan.

Following is the lineup of the two teams:

De Fremery Juniors—Catcher, F. McAlister; pitcher, M. Rogers; first base, B. Cleon; second base, Holtz; third base, Meyer; shortstop, D. Negro; right field, H. Cunningham; center field, R. Pickert; left field, J. Duffy.

At 3 o'clock the Intermediate of Bushrod clashed in a game of basketball with a much larger team at Garfield and won by a score of 17 to 10. The game was regular with brilliant passwork and team work on the part of the winning team. Following is the lineup of the Bushrod team: Catcher, V. DeCola; forwards, L. Krone, M. Hodgman; guards, E. Converse, G. Barry, G. Ames, H. Donavan.

CARELESS WAS JOHN; HIS NEW TOOTH, TOO

CHICAGO, March 18.—John Fendlin, examined his revolver and a cartridge exploded.

"Ouch," yelled John Rossall, a friend, clutching his mouth and jaw with his hands. "Oh, John," said Fendlin, "this is awful. You know I didn't intend to shoot you."

"Oh, please," said Rossall, distressed. "There's your bullet and there's that wisdom tooth that just cost me $12 to have crowned. You're actually killing me, Fendlin!"

The lost tooth was the only injury.

NEW MUNICIPAL REGIME AT SEATTLE.
SEATTLE, March 18.—The new city administration, headed by Mayor George F. Cotterell, went into office today, the mayor promising economic and progressive government in his address. All but three of the elective officials held the same offices last year, and of these three only one, a councilman elected to fill a vacancy, is a stranger to city affairs.

CANAL 90 PER CENT DONE.
SEATTLE, March 17.—J. T. Hoffman, a shipbuilder and dry dock operator, has returned from a trip through the West Indies and a visit to the Panama Canal. He says the canal is 90 per cent completed and that it will be ready for the fleet of the world in 1914.

COURT ASSASSINS ARE BEING SURROUNDED

DYNAMITING OF ALLENS PLANNED

Outlaws Who Slew Officials Are Believed to Be Fortified

Stronghold Impregnable and the Officers Expect Fierce Resistance

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 18.—The authorities of two states are surrounding the region today in which the Allen clan are supposed to be hiding. A large posse composed of North Carolina sheriffs and deputies, together with several detectives, are closing in from the North Carolina mountains, while another large force is pushing its way from Hillsville southward.

Definite developments are not expected before Tuesday night. The officers being far into the mountains and remote from telegraph and telephone stations, to a large extent will be cut off from communication with the outside world.

Circulars containing a description of the Allens are being distributed along the North Carolina border through the mountain section and over a strip of 100 miles wide, 50 miles in Virginia and 50 miles in North Carolina. These circulars are sent to every postoffice and sheriff.

EDWARDS AT BAY.
CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 18.—A dispatch from Hillsville, Va., states that men under Detective Feltz of Roanoke have surrounded Sidney Edwards, a nephew of Sida Allen, and news of his capture is momentarily expected. It is expected that Edwards will be taken from his home without his rifle or other arms at the approach of the posse and ran into a thicket, which was surrounded.

NOT AT DEN, IS BELIEF.
HILLSVILLE, March 18.—Captain Tamm of the militia in charge of the party here received word that posses in the mountains had passed Devil's Den, where the Allens were supposed to be hiding, but saw no trace of the outlaws. The posse had not attempted to explore any of the caves.

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 18.—Dynamite was suggested today as an effective aid in the hunt for members of the Allen clan, in the belief that the Allens have made of Devil's Den their retreat, a stronghold practically impregnable and that they are well supplied with food and ammunition.

Search began in earnest today. The Commonwealth of Virginia is determined, at all costs, to bring them to justice for the murder of five of its citizens, including the officers of Carroll county circuit court.

Picked men remained on the mountain side all night guarding the approaches to Devil's Den, and early today the detachment was joined by the entire posse of 75 detectives and citizen volunteers who had rested overnight in Hillsville, after an exhausting Sunday.

FARMERS FEAR DISORDER.
While the detectives are preparing to start on the hunt for the outlaws, by cutting off their food supply from surrounding districts, Hillsville itself is not receiving any too much food. Farmers, fearing that the town still is in disorder, are slow about bringing their food and supplies.

Mrs. Floyd Allen, at her home near here, was greatly worried over the situation and very nervous. She would say little about the affair. Mrs. Edwards, mother of Sida Allen, told the officers that last Tuesday night the Allens came for Sida and he was away for two days.

Ammunition for the slaughter in the district, which apparently was deliberately planned several days in advance, was secured from a Pultaski store early in the week.

MAY SEND TROOPS.

RICHMOND, Va., March 18.—An important conference, believed to involve the sending of troops to Hillsville to take up the search for the courtroom assassins, was held here today. Governor Mann, Judge Walter R. Staples of Roanoke, who has been occupying the Hillsville bench since the death of Judge Massey, and the chief of the detective agency engaged in the hunt for the Allens, attended the conference.

GEORGE ANSON KING DIES IN OAKLAND

CAREER OF 82 YEARS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

GEORGE ANSON KING, pioneer mining man and railroad official, who died at the Manheim Sanitarium yesterday.

Colleague of Flood, O'Brien, Mackay and Fair Passes Away in Local Hospital

After a career of 82 years, most of them intimately connected with the early history of California, George Anson King, pioneer mining man and railroad operator, colleague of Flood, O'Brien, Mackay and Fair, the four millionaires who in the early days controlled the transportation and mining situation here, died yesterday at the Manheim Sanitarium. The illness of old age caused death. He was ill for about five weeks before the end came.

George Anson King was born at White River Junction, Vermont, on June 29, 1829. He came to this state in 1852, sailing around the Horn. He was one of the first deputy port collectors in San Francisco, following which he embarked in mining ventures in this state and Nevada. He later served as deputy internal revenue collector under Stephen T. Gago, having charge of Nevada and Utah. Later when Gago resigned, King took his place, which he held for some time.

SECRETARY OF V. & T.
Later he became secretary of the Virginia and Truckee railway, and in this position until 1879, when he became head of the Nevada

CONDEMNS ELLIOT'S PLAN OF OFFICIAL ESPIONAGE

M. L. Regua Declares County Officials Welcome Advice on Improvement

EDITOR TRIBUNE: In the Chronicle of Sunday there is an article describing a meeting of the Public Service Club in the interesting feature to me was the suggestion put forward by former City Councilman Elliott of a plan described as "unique" for keeping a check on public officials, apparently with the idea that all public officials were dishonest and that all that was necessary to do was to supply an efficient secretary and a stenographer to conduct a system of espionage and the publication of the short-hand notes so secured once a month. He is quoted as saying that the carrying out of such a plan would require the expenditure of at least $12,000 annually. Money so spent would be wasted. Public officials of Alameda county, as I have found them, have received with cordial sympathy the suggestions looking to the improvement of the administration of public offices. The defects that exist go much deeper than the inefficiency of the individual officeholder. The trouble is due primarily to an unsatisfactory system of conducting county affairs, consisting mainly in the lack of any co-ordinated accounting system that renders ineffective the work of any single office, no matter how excellent its methods of accounting may be.

VITAL FACTOR.

Team play has always been recognized as a vital factor in football, basketball, baseball and other team sports, and it is the lack of this team play that is the fundamental reason for the inefficiency of the county administration.

It is now almost a year since the work of the tax association was commenced. It has the advice, among others, of Henry Bruere, director of the bureau of municipal research of New York; Elton Lower, chairman efficiency division, city of Chicago, and the Citizens' Association of Chicago. Mr. Elliot seems to be unaware of the work being done by the tax association of Alameda county. An attempt at a similar organization would, I believe, be in direct violation of the principles of efficiency, one of the maxims of which are that duplication is inefficient work; further, the ex-

ENGLAND'S NAVY BILL TO BE PASSED

First Lord of Admiralty Asks for an Appropriation of $220,427,000.

Winston Spencer Churchill Regrets the Necessity of Referring to Germany.

LONDON, March 18.—Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty in the House of Commons introduced today the naval estimates for the coming year. The appropriation called for is $220,427,000, a decrease of $1,535,000 from last year. Mr. Churchill accompanied the introduction with a promise of an augmentation or a retardation of British naval construction to correspond with Germany's naval progress. He said he regretted the necessity of referring specially to Germany.

TWO TO ONE STANDARD.
Mr. Churchill then went on to tell of the conditions under which naval competition could be carried on in the next few years, prefacing his remarks with the statement that the two to one standard was not necessary at present, although it possibly would become so.

"The two power standard" has been extended by some of its supporters," continued Mr. Churchill, "to include the United States and by this means it has lost good sense and reality." The first lord laid down a 60 per cent superiority in battleships and battle cruisers of the dreadnaught type as compared with the Germany navy as a convenient basis for the next four or five years. He pointed out that Great Britain at present possessed superiority in pre-dreadnaught vessels and necessitates the augmentation of new British construction so as to meet the existing German law.

CONSTRUCTION OF DREADNAUGHTS.
Mr. Churchill said it would be necessary for Great Britain to construct four and three dreadnaughts every year, and for the next six years. He added that any retardation or reduction of German construction would be promptly followed by a proportionate measure of reduction in Great Britain.

Immigration to U. S. Depopulating Ireland

National Council of Dublin Asks for Rigid Enforcement of Law.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—In a letter to President Taft, the National Council of Dublin has appealed for rigid enforcement of American immigration laws as a means of preventing further depopulation of Ireland by immigration.

The council declares that Ireland has lost nearly half of its people within the last sixty years "by unnecessary and abnormal immigration," and that the obliteration of the Irish nation is actually threatened.

It is asserted that the British government views these prospects with "complacency or satisfaction." Irish immigration, the letter says, is directed largely to the United States, and it is estimated that one-third of the people who leave the country travel on tickets purchased for them by residents of the United States, in violation of the law.

BANKER LEAVES ALL HIS ESTATE TO WIDOW

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The will of Samuel Steinman, a former business man and banker of Sacramento, was probated in Judge Graham's court this morning. Steinman, who died February 25th, leaves his entire estate valued at $192,000 to his widow, Rebecca Steinman, allowing her to provide for their three adult children. The administrator is B. U. Steinman, former mayor of Sacramento and brother of the decedent, who resides at the Palace Hotel. The family allowance was fixed at $500 monthly.

istling association has had some considerable experience, is well equipped, has a large membership and some considerable financial resources. It needs more members. It can save more money, and would be glad of the co-operation of Mr. Elliot or any other citizens of Oakland and Alameda county, who are interested in such work. Yours truly, M. L. REGUA.

The new members of the membership committee are: Mrs. William L. Patlan, Mrs. Joseph Loran Pease, Mrs. C. J. Waterhouse, Mrs. George T. Morrow, Mrs. Elsie H. Neustadt.

The retiring officers of the club were urged to accept re-election, but declined. Only three of the directors of last year are on the ticket. They are Mrs. A. C. Posey, Mrs. Charles L. Smith and Mrs. D. B. Huntley.

CONDEMNED MURDERER IS TAKEN TO SAN QUENTIN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—John F. Rogers, condemned to death on the gallows on May 24th for the murder of Benjamin Goodman, was taken to San Quentin Penitentiary this morning by Deputy Sheriff Woodhall. The reason for the speed with which Rogers was hurried from the prison was that the county jail officials believed him to be a dangerous man and were anxious to get him out of their custody as soon as possible.

When he sentenced Rogers on Saturday Superior Judge Willis of Los Angeles allowed ten days' time in which the convicted man was to be taken to the penitentiary. Last night, however, Sheriff Eggers issued orders for the prisoner to be transported today.

WILL OPPOSE REDUCING TARIFF

Senator Perkins Promises Aid to Olive Oil Industry of This State.

Senator George C. Perkins has written the Chamber of Commerce acknowledging resolutions recently passed by that body protesting against any reduction of the duty on olives and olive oil. Perkins declares he will present the resolutions to the Senate, which he has referred to the finance committee, where he hopes the proposed reduction will be vetoed. Perkins writes as follows:

"I am in full accord with you in this matter and believe that a material reduction would injure the great industry and react disastrously on labor. I shall do all I can to prevent a reduction of rates, especially rates on products of our own State, which the Democratic policy has so hard. It is unfortunate that the California delegation in Congress is not a unit in opposing reduction. In other years, by presenting an undivided front to the opposition, we have been able to obtain adequate protection for all our California products."

DR. FRIEDLANDER IS HONORED BY PEOPLE

Rabbi M. Friedlander was chosen, at a meeting of the First Hebrew Congregation as a delegate to represent that body at the convention of American Rabbis to be held in Baltimore, April 12.

For some time past Dr. Friedlander has been engaged in revising the Hebrew prayer-book. The second part of the work has already been approved by the convention and the first part will be revised at the coming meeting. The new ritual was used in the local church for the first time at the Yom Kippur festival. Rabbi Friedlander has been appointed on two convention committees—one, The Theological Society of the Reform Rabbis, and the other, the committee on "Ceremonial Literature." He will leave for the east April 8th.

OF CHURCH VOTE

First Christian Congregation to Spend Another Sunday Balloting.

BERKLEY, March 18.—Several hundred ballots were cast yesterday by members of the First Christian church in a referendum vote to determine whether members of other churches are to be admitted without immersion. The balloting will be concluded next Sunday night, and then the ballot boxes will not be opened.

The vote was led to by the recent stance of the pastor, Rev. H. J. Loken, in favor of admitting members of evangelical churches without demanding that they conform to that church's doctrine. The First Christian church, Dr. D. B. Lary and H. Allen of the Board of Elders entered a protest to the method of voting, Dr. Lary declaring:

members to amend the by-laws of our church. They are only going to vote on the question to secure an expression of the majority of the congregation. It carries they will countenance the admission of unimpressed persons into the church and thereby violate the law without amending it."

OAKS PLAY BANG-UP BALL AND TEAM LOOKS WINNER

Ability to Hit Pellet Is Long Suit, While New Boxmen Show That They Are Clever Men on Hill

By BERT LOWRY.

OAKS' TRAINING CAMP, Livermore, March 18.—Nature was good to the hopes of the Oakland fans here yesterday, for the sun was out nearly all day and the air was just crisp enough for baseball. The 350 Oakland fans who invaded this little burg went back to the big town tickled to death with the way the hopes behaved. It wasn't a practice game in one sense of the word, for the Oaks were smarting over the way the Livermore contingent had handled them a week ago, and Sharpe's men went in to show the fans that they are going to be some pumpkins when the real grind and fight for the pennant begins.

Just to make the occasion all the more betting, J. Cal. Ewing, the big boss of the San Francisco Hoopes, came around the back entrance into the ball park with a party of friends in an automobile and was an interesting spectator for several innings, and he keenly watched every man on the team that will be fighting his bunt all through the season. For you know that keen rivalry exists between the Oaks and Oaks, and when Cal. Ewing cranked up and started back for the old town he had a good word for the Oaks and said he hoped his crew were as peppy and could play the game as well as did Walter's outfit.

But three pitchers worked for the Oaks, all new men at that. Pope started and in three innings allowed no bingle. O'Loughlin took the burden for two men, three and two hits were gathered off of his shoats and slants. Big Malarkey finished the game, and this boy will be some man on the hill if yesterday's work is a sample of what he can do. Big and husky he is with a cool graceful movement that shows he has been in many a hard fought campaign before. Parkins injects lots of comedy into his work, but knows lots of things that would make the opposing batsmen. Pope depends much on speed yet he has enough curve to the ball to make a fellow slider get or swing his head off trying to connect.

OAKS HIT GOOD AND HARD. While Livermore cannot boast of the best pitching staff in the world Malarkey and Vates had enough on the ball to make the Oaks hustle to make connections and this was the case in many a hard fought campaign before. Parkins injects lots of comedy into his work, but knows lots of things that would make the opposing batsmen. Pope depends much on speed yet he has enough curve to the ball to make a fellow slider get or swing his head off trying to connect.

In the fielding line the Oaks behaved exceptionally well and second base and shortstop will be well taken care of by Leard and Cooke. The former is in the Klaus, Dillon, Frayne and Burns Are Hard at Work for Coming Bouts.

Yesterday was a busy day at White's, Millett's and Shannon's, at which places four of the boxers who are to meet in the roped arena in the near future are training.

Down at Millett's, Jack Dillon, the Indianapolis ringster went twelve rounds in all, boxing with Charley Horn, Johnny McCarty, Mike Forbes and Tom Dillon. A big crowd was on hand to watch the new man go through his work and the fans went away satisfied that he would give his opponent next Saturday afternoon a good argument in the ring.

At White's, Klaus cut away from the morning work, but in the afternoon held forth in the gym. before a crowd that packed the place. After a strenuous session with the weights, pullups and punching bags, Klaus took on Harry Baker for three rounds and Dave Mills for a like number and both bouts were fast and well worth seeing.

Johnny Grayne, who is also at White's, worked in the morning and night gym work in the afternoon. Commencing tomorrow, Frayne will have Tucky and Percy Cove and Zanders for April 2 at South Bend, Ind. and each day until just before his bout with Burns will box three rounds each with the boys.

MIKE GIBBONS GOES EAST FOR BOUTS IN ROPED ARENA

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 18.—Mike Gibbons and Eddie Reddy left for the East yesterday to resume activities in the boxing game. Gibbons will meet Jack Denning in a return bout in New York on March 26 and is matched with Ernie Zanders for April 2 at South Bend, Ind. Reddy is ducking for at least one more bout before they return home.

ST. MARY'S SHOWS ITS CLASS IN OPENING GAME OF SERIES

Mike Cann Outpitches Barry for Honors in Diamond Battle.

SANTA CLARA, March 18.—First blood goes to St. Mary's College baseball squad in the annual series for the Catholic college championship of the state. Yesterday afternoon, before fully 4000 excited fans, the boys from the bay shore neatly trimmed the Mission lads by a score of 3 to 1.

Mike Cann, the Oakland outfit was mainly responsible for the downfall of the Santa Clarans, for his pitching was masterly all the way through and at all times he held his opponents safe. Four scattered hits was the sum total of swats glommed by the Missionites, while twelve of them hit the dirt.

Barry, too, for the losers, pitched excellent baseball, but St. Mary's found his defense at the opportune time and the four hits they gathered figured largely in the run column.

Santa Clara was the first to score. In the second after Ybarando had gone out on a fly ball, Bert lifted a high one to right field near the foul line and pulled up safely at second when Togni dropped the ball. Ramago's infield out sent him in third from where he registered when Barry sent one screaming through the infield.

St. Mary's tied the score in the fifth frame. Quigley, first up, opened the inning with a single. Togni followed with a first safe single registered off Barry.

And Togni's attempted sacrifice went for nothing when Ybarando came in too fast, allowing a slinky bunt fly to get away from him. Burns laid down a neat sacrifice, advancing both runners and then Guini and Leonard worked the squeeze, the St. Mary's outscored umpire.

VALERIE BERGERE INTENSE IN IDEAL TABLOID PLAY

MISS VALERIE BERGERE, who is at the Orpheum, in Victor Small's tabloid play, "Judgment."

The intensity of "Judgment," a Small's play in which Valerie Bergeré is appearing at the Orpheum theater, is apparent from the entrance of Miss Bergeré as May Slocum. The setting is laid for intensity. There is the young judge who is to instruct a jury to hang Slocum; and there are the jurist's wife and his child. Night has reached the nine o'clock stage. There are lamplight and shadows. Intensity is in the atmosphere and it breaks forth like rain on the cooling of the prisoner's wife to plead for her husband.

So it known that Slocum had been found in capitalist Brown's home with a pistol in his hand, bending over the dead body of Brown. His defense had been that he entered the house to rob it, that while he was there he heard a quarrel between Brown and a third party, saw the latter shoot Brown and make his escape. He went to the aid of the victim and was found there when the police came. Circumstantial evidence has convicted him and his wife would make the judge see it that way.

SLOCUM MUST HANG. John Brill, of the criminal court, is back-sure, however, and Slocum must hang. Thereupon the pleading wife, driven to bay in the effort to save her husband, suddenly hatches a scheme to change his mind, and put it into execution. She locks the door leading to a room in which is the wife of the judge, throws the key out of the window and turns off the lights. Then she throws herself into the judge's arms and screams for help. The wife breaks in and finds the woman struggling in the arms of the judge. Circumstantial evidence, you see, and when explanations are made the judge changes his mind and promises to instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. An ideal vaudeville playlet is "Judgment," containing, as it does, a pleading woman, a child, tears, suspense, surprise and intensity, all of them touched up with the comedy of life. Miss Bergeré is sufficiently intense and dramatic as May Slocum. Herbert Warren is an acceptable Judge Brill. His wife is played by Katherine Kavanaugh.

GOOD DAYS WORK. Elsie Schuyler and Jay Roberts, in vocal and instrumental singing—pianos often sing, you know—delighted yesterday's audience to the extent of several encores. Miss Schuyler opened with a promise and closed with fulfillment, which is a pretty good day's work, you'll have to admit. "Little Pink Pet," "It's Perfectly Terrible, Dear," "Knockout Drops" and "Fairy Tales," gave the audience something to laugh about while attuning the musical ear. Miss Schuyler would do well with work that is frankly character drawing. She has a good singing voice, a fund of personal appeal and an artistic idea of a grimace. Roberts, at the piano, is a master performer and carried off his share of the honors with original rights.

The act is another home product that deserves praise, both for its ambitious effort and its accomplishment. Miss Schuyler has been a resident of Oakland for some time. She played a prominent part in the James T. Powers' cast of San Toy, seen in Oakland, some seasons ago, and has had much experience on the stage. Roberts is a local boy who has made good in vaudeville.

Manager George Ebey of the Orpheum planned the act, whipped it into shape and had the pleasure of seeing it "go big" yesterday, despite the fact that it followed one of the highest paid comedy acts in vaudeville, a position on the bill that meant an obstacle. Ebey wrote "Fairy Tales," "Isn't It Terrible, Dear," and

CHURCH MARRIAGE AS DIVORCE CURE

Chief Justice Would Perform All Ceremonies Under Proper Conditions.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 18.—If all marriages were contracted in churches there would be far fewer divorces, is the opinion of Chief Justice Joseph W. Donnelly of the Milwaukee civil court. "There should be first of all parental consent," said Donnelly. "The church should be the ceremony performed by a minister in a church before the friends of both the man and the woman. There should be the ring and the wedding march and all the other little touches—call them sentimental, if you will—that go with the acceptance of a sacred ceremony. And it should have the proper setting."

Regarding the other side of the picture, the young couple rush to the house clerk; possibly just before closing time to keep it out of the papers. They turn to the priest and apply for a special dispensation. They are taken into his chambers. There is nothing here to remind them of the nature of the contract into which they are about to enter. A few musty law volumes; the smell of stale tobacco smoke in the air; perhaps a woman of a woman of the underworld has sobbed out a pitiful story of sordid shame to a calloused lawyer. What is there in this environment to maintain the impressiveness of the beautiful sacrament of marriage? Will the average man and woman regard the ceremony performed in a law office with that feeling of awe and reverence that come when two persons meet at God's altar to plight their troth?

CATHOLICS BUY SITE. STOCKTON, March 18.—Archbishop R. V. Riordan of the Catholic church of San Francisco, acting for St. Mary's church of this city, has purchased the property on the southeast corner of San Joaquin and Park streets for the purpose of erecting a school to take the place of St. Agnes Academy. The site is 150 feet square and consists of a quarter of a block.

BANNER CROPS IN VALLEY PREDICTED

Sacramento Farms Benefit by Recent Rains; Frosts Still to Be Feared.

SACRAMENTO, March 18.—Reports to the Sacramento Union from all parts of the Sacramento Valley forecast banner crops as a result of the recent rains. Particularly, it is true of the cereal outlook, and estimates are freely made that not only will the output from the average acreage be greater than in former years but a greater area has been seeded this year than ever before, since the decrease in grain area began on account of big ranches sold for subdivision and tree planting.

Recent rains have been beneficial to both early and late sown grain and the outlook for alfalfa is bright. From Glenn, Tehama, Colusa, Yuba and Shasta counties in the upper part of the valley and from Solano and Yolo in the southern part, encouraging reports are received. In some parts of the valley fear is felt for late frosts, particularly in the foot hills section. From Shasta county an encouraging report comes for an abundant hay crop, most farmers believing that the hay crop will exceed that of 1905 when three and one-half tons to the acre were raised.

The expected crop and satisfactory condition, due to the recent warm rains, the great good of which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

ARIZONA'S GOVERNOR IS HOST TO CONVICTS

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 18.—Nine convicts from the State penitentiary at Florence were given a dinner by Governor George W. P. Hunt last evening. The Governor made a speech to the convicts, to which one of their number responded, conveying the thanks of the convicts for the interest shown by the Chief Executive of the State in prison affairs and predicting his re-election.

CHAUFFEUR FOUND GUILTY. NEW YORK, March 18.—A chauffeur guilty of robbery in the first degree, was the verdict returned Saturday by the jury that tried Gene Montani, the chauffeur in the taxicab holdup of February 15, when two messengers of the East River National Bank were robbed of $25,000. With the verdict was coupled a recommendation of mercy. Montani was remanded for sentence on Wednesday.

"DEADWOOD DIK" IS DEAD. DENVER, March 18.—The body of Robert Dickey, known as "Deadwood Dik," lies in the morgue awaiting word from wealthy relatives in Pennsylvania as to his disposition. Dickey died in the hospital ward of the city jail, where he had been taken on a charge of vagrancy.

Do you know that more real danger lurks in a common cold than in any other of the minor ailments? The safe way is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a thoroughly reliable preparation, and rid yourself of the cold as quickly as possible. This remedy is for sale by Osceola Bros. drug store.

URGES INFLUENCE OF SEX IN CLASS

Professor of Philosophy Declares Line Should Be Removed.

MANHATTAN, Kan., March 18.—"Judged from the standpoint of the future well being of the American people, social purity is a more important issue than the tariff or the conservation of natural resources," says William A. McKee, professor of philosophy at the Kansas State agricultural college in a bulletin issued entitled "Instructing the Young in Regard to Sex."

Professor McKee urges that boys and girls of all ages should be allowed frequent association with the opposite sex under proper restrictions. "The line fence that separates the sexes at school and elsewhere is a shameful advertisement of our dual standard of morals," he continues. "Women are not naturally more minded than men. Take down the line fence; inculcate the same degree of clearness of thought, speech and conduct before boys as before girls."

Parental ignorance and neglect constitute the first contributing cause of the great prevalence of the social evil, he said. "Let American parents rally to the great social obligation of training their children for pure thinking, clean sex life, and the race will quickly manifest the splendid manly and womanly qualities inherent in our ordinary human breed."

Athletic sports, vigorous and joyful outdoor exercises so "both the physical and mental exuberance of youth may find a wholesome outlet," are recommended.

"The long standing theory that every boy must sow his wild oats has been successfully controverted by specialists," says Professor McKee.

EXPEDITION WILL GO TO ANTARCTIC

Party to Sail in June on Museum Specimen Hunting Voyage.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., March 18.—That an expedition to the Antarctic is to be undertaken this summer by the American Museum of Natural History became known here today, though the announcement that Captain Benjamin D. Cleveland, a local whaling master, will conduct the scientists.

The party will sail from the West Indies on June 1, on the whaler Daisy, which has for many years been engaged in seal elephant hunting. "Three months will be spent at the island of South Georgia, collecting specimens for the museum. Visits then will be paid to other islands of the region lying north of the great ice barrier that encircles the South Polar continent."

PARIS CHIEF OF POLICE ELECTED TO ACADEMY

PARIS, March 18.—Lepine, Chief of Police, was elected a member of the Academy of Moral and Political Science over eight competitors yesterday. He gives the following explanation of the cause of his election:

"Some months ago I received a check for $30,000 from a foreigner, a mother to whom I had restored a prodigal son. The donor desired to remain anonymous and left me free to use the money as I pleased. Even her name has disappeared from my memory."

"With this $30,000 it became my object to uplift unfortunate who were in the gutter through uncontrollable circumstances. I meant to help them without awakening their suspicion. This work is being administered by former Prime Minister Clemenceau, M. Ogier, the director of the Ministry of the Interior, and myself. The directress of the work, Madame Rousseau, is the real apostle. Over six hundred fallen women have been reclaimed. Many are governesses, teachers or otherwise employed. Some are excellent mothers of families. Only thirty-seven have relapsed, and we have expended only $10,000. I owe my election to this sociological action."

'NEAR SIDE' CAR IS NEW THING IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 18.—The new "near side" car which the Chicago City Railway Company ordered some time ago has arrived and will be given a trial early in the week.

L. A. Busby, president of the company, said last night that the car is the "last word" in street car construction. If the car comes up to expectations the company proposes to order a sufficient number to equip one of its trunk lines.

Both conductor and motorman stand on the front platform, where the passengers enter also. The cars stop before crossing a street.

MILITONAIRES DIES. SEATTLE, Wash., March 18.—Karl Gottlieb, 54 years old, a millionaire liquor and real estate owner died yesterday of heart disease. He was a native of Russian-Poland and came to the United States in 1879, settling at Deadwood, S. D., whence he removed to Seattle in 1888.

MAINE CALLS FOR SPECIAL SESSION

First Since Civil War to Be Held by Legislature of Eastern State.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 18.—The Maine legislature will meet in special session Wednesday for the first time since the Civil War. Governor Plaisted's proclamation gives three purposes of the session:

"To restrict the state for representatives in congress; to amend the laws governing elections, and to propose a constitutional amendment which will determine local option with regard to the liquor traffic."

The senate has 22 Democrats and 9 Republicans; the House 55 Democrats and 66 Republicans.

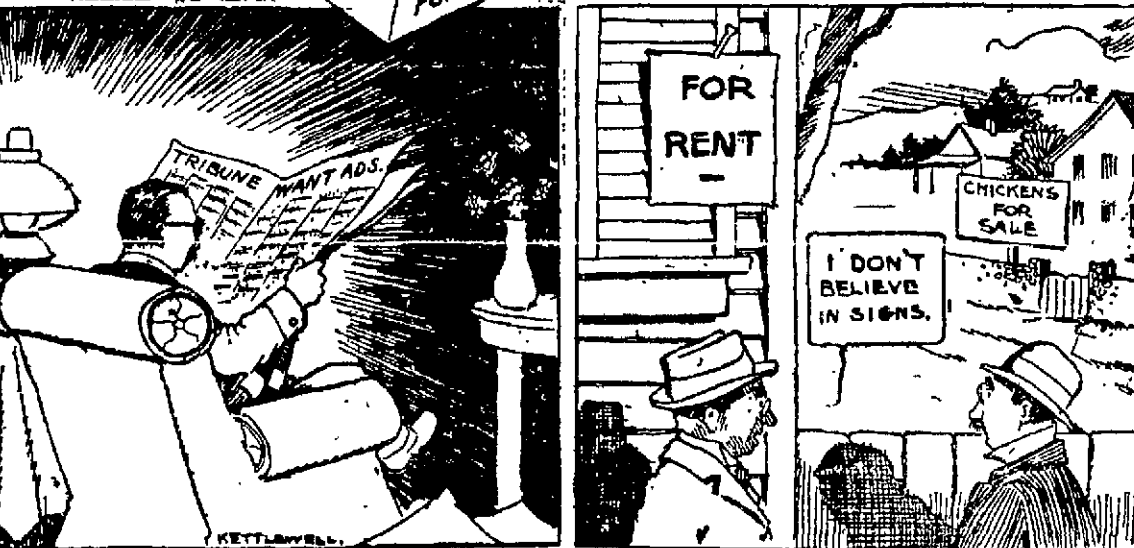

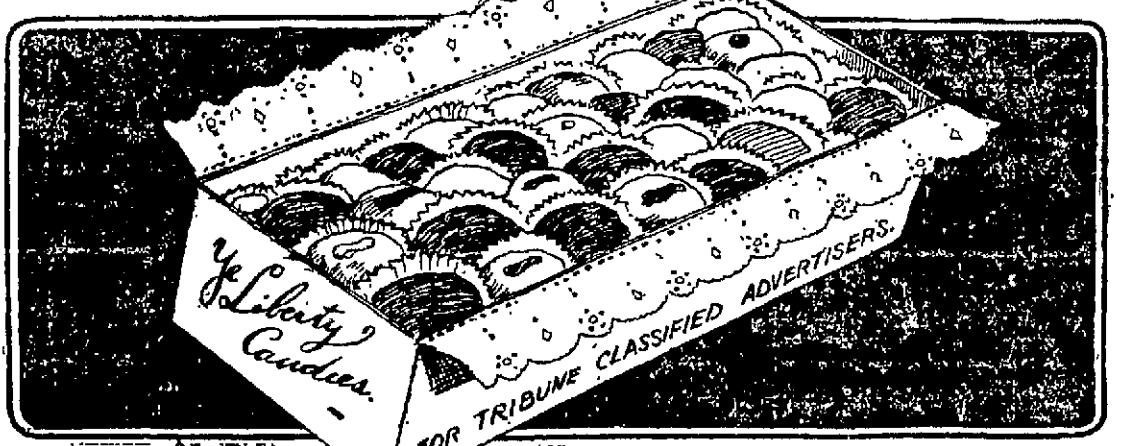

PRISONER HELD AS POSTOFFICE ROBBER

SACRAMENTO, March 18.—A suspicious character, whom Detectives Ryan and Biggs and Police Captain Penning captured shortly before midnight Saturday night, is believed to be the much-wanted postoffice robber. He put up a determined fight and was nearly stripped of clothing before being finally subdued.

A package found on him contained twenty books of stamps, stolen from the Florin Postoffice Friday night, and 800 postal cards, supposed to have been stolen from some other office. The prisoner refuses to give his name, but he is believed to be an ex-convict.

CHINAMAN KILLED. NEW YORK, March 18.—Len Chu Jung, a Chinaman who is said to have come from Cleveland to escape threatened long troubles there, was found fatally wounded last night in a Wall street house adjoining a restaurant where the Four Brothers Society was holding a banquet. The Chinaman died at a hospital. The police theory is that Jung tried to get into the banquet as an On Leong tong spy.
